OUR COUNTY TICKET.

The ticket which the Republicans have placed in the field for the support of the people is one for which they have no need to make any apology. It is composed of men who were early settlers of the county and who have continuously resided here and stood by Trego through thick and thin. Each of them is a heavy taxpayer and property owner. Most of them live on their farms and all with but one exception own Trego county farms. Each is competent to discharge the duties of the position for which he has been nominated and will receive the support, not only of his party associates, but of many others.

For County Treasurer we have nominated A. L. Gleason. Mr. Gleason has been a resident of the county about fifteen years. He is now and has been all this time engaged in farming and stock-raising, being more especially in the sheep industry. He is a careful, conservative business man, thoroughly competent, and will make a model treasurer. For County Clerk L. G. Johnson, who came to the county in 1885, is the candidate. He has been trustee of Wa-Keeney township the past two years and in this position he has discharged his duties with careful fidelity to public interests and with fairness to all. He lives on his farm on Big creek, about three miles south of this city, where by hard work with his own unaided hands he is building a comfortable farm home and improving the county to the ultimate advantage of every resident in it. Mr. Johnson has had a good common school and commercial college education and will make a good, competent county clerk.

For Register of Deeds C. H. Benson, of Ogallah, received the unanimous vote of the convention which nominated him. He has lived in the county about sixteen years and, for a time, followed merchandising and kept the postoffice at Ogallah. For several years last past he has been an actual farmer, not an agriculturist by proxy. His election to the office for which he is well qualified, is conceded.

For County Surveyor Republicans will vote for J. R. Wilson, regardless of the "silver" question. Mr. Wilson has a good education and was at one time a school teacher. Not being satisfied with a common school teacher's certificate he studied surveying and civil engineering and is also a good mechanic. He came to Trego in 1879, was elected county surveyor in 1885 and served two years in that position with credit to himself and with satisfaction to others. Since then he has had a large experience in railroad bridge building and surveying, all of which makes him especially competent to discharge the duties of this office in which experience is essential and for which special preparation is necessary.

For Sheriff Theodore Courtney, another old settler, has been nominated. He, too, has had experience in the office to which he again aspires, having been elected in 1889 and again in 1891. As sheriff he almost invariably got what he "went after" and once in tow the criminal did not get away by any means whatever, but was turned over to the proper official or released by legal orders. He was one of the most prudent, yet vigilant sheriffs, and most popular officer the county has ever had. Mr. Courtney is an old soldier and lives on his farm near Banner.

For Coroner Joshua Groft is the old reliable standby of the people who have almost unanimously declared him their choice for this position for several terms. Although the fees of the office are very small and there is no contention for the place, yet it is one of the most important county offices. Mr. Groft is an old settler, an old soldier, and lives in Wa-Keeney.

For County Commissioner, 2nd District A. P. Hinshaw, who asks for re-election, was a resident of Trego county before its organization in 1879. He came here then, not by appointment, but to make a home and has lived here ever since. He resides on his farm near the center of the county, where he has a small bunch of cattle which he takes care of himself. Aside from farming and stock raising, Mr. Hinshaw is often called to work at his trade and has the reputation of being the best plasterer in the county. He was elected last year to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. B. Cypber, and has had one year of perplexing, and rather stormy experience, through which he has shown himself a careful, conservative guardian of county interests.

Our Candidates Are all men of ability and stability. That they do not regard the county as a place to get office is proven by their staying qualities. That they are competent has been proven by the experience of their neighbors, who are ready to promote them to higher positions or re-elect them to the same. They were each nominated by acclamation in a convention which was remarkable for its fairness and the harmony of its proceedings. They are worthy of the support of all voters regardless of party. They will be elected.

Our Populist friends and readers of the Independent are invited to call on us almost any day in the week and see Peacock and Jones get out the paper.

What is the number of the road district you live in and who is your candidate? Find out before election. You must vote for no other. So says the latest law.

The Independent wept several more weeps last week about the way some imaginary "bushwackers" defrauded Major Tilton out of an appointment. The Major met several gentlemen of that stripe away back in the '60's and if "Wa-Keeney was represented at that meeting" when the diabolical plot was laid, perhaps Col. Henkel was there.

One hundred cents in gold, silver, nickel, copper or currency pays for 52 copies of the WORLD. If you want the WORLD one year and haven't the ready cash, bring us one hundred pounds of McKinley wheat. In lieu of wheat bring us 100 pounds of potatoes, cabbage or onions. We can readily convert them into cash at prosperity prices. Unless you want the WORLD for a life time don't bring us a steer or even a heifer calf.

The State House officials and employees spent almost all of their time last week entertaining visitors. The state house belongs to the people and those who wanted it last week can not complain that they were not given every opportunity to see everything.—Independent.

It has always been so, but the rustic Populist who tried to pitch his tent and picnic on the state house grounds was accosted by a big burly plutocratic Pop policeman who told him to "keep off the grass." Thus does the Great Red Dragon invade the rights of the common people.

In the libel suit of Geo. W. Lynn vs. Givler & Crooks, publishers of the WESTERN KANSAS WORLD, the case was submitted to the court, the plaintiff's petition found to be true, and judgment rendered against the defendants.—Independent, October 9.

We gave the exact facts last week regarding the disposition of this libel farce and should not refer to it again now except for the appearance of the untrue and misleading statement. Mr. Lynn let us off with $1 and (humbly begging his pardon and permission for this mention) we remind our contemporary that $1 is a great drop from $1,300 and even considerably less than $20. Possibly a Mexican $ would have been a "go" if we had happened to have one handy.

Twenty-five hundred dollars is a big price to pay for one hour's second-hand talk on a dead and buried, never to be resurrected, issue. It takes 2,500 bushels of wheat, or the product of a 100-acre farm, even in this year of good yields and good prices, to raise this sum. Last year, when the author of the speech was a candidate for president, with the threatened, although remote, prospect of election, it took 7,500 bushels to bring that much money. Several questions arise in this connection: Has the value of the speech, measured in wheat, gone down, or has the value of wheat gone up when measured in the world's standard? It is the same speech, but different wheat, to be sure. If the famine in India has raised the price of wheat, measured in speech, what appetite appeased has lowered the value of the speech when measured in wheat? If the law of supply and demand was inoperative last year, when its very existence was ignored or even denied by Populist speakers, when did it resume business? For several years they derided the idea that an over-production could be responsible for low prices so long as some people had not enough to eat. Now that a famine actually exists in one quarter of the globe, while good crops, good prices and prosperity prevail in another, starvation again serves them as a scapegoat for their sophistry. Now that the law of supply and demand has been recognized as a potent factor in determining values, Mrs. Lease should revise her famous apothegm and make it read, "more wheat and less hades," in order to restore an equilibrium of prices because the latter product is at a discount this year, while the former is higher than it has been at any time since she first advocated her "corn and hell" crop rotation.

Meanwhile Mr. Bryan, who only a few months ago said that no man could legitimately earn $5,000 per year, will go on drawing crowds and extracting thousands of dollars from them day by day. Thus the rich grow richer and the poor poorer. McKinley prices will enable the latter to stand it for awhile and should adversity again overtake them another champion will rise up and lead them through a new "First Battle" for his own glory and profit.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly. Indeed, it acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anybody afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Jones & Gibson.

Notice to Teachers. The regular quarterly examination for teachers' certificates will be held at my office in Wa-Keeney, on Saturday, October 30, 1897, beginning at 7 o'clock a. m.

A. S. PEACOCK,
County Superintendent.

Persistent Coughs

A cough which seems to hang on in spite of all the remedies which you have applied certainly needs energetic and sensible treatment. For twenty-five years that standard preparation of cod-liver oil, has proved its effectiveness in curing the trying affections of the throat and lungs, and this is the reason why: the cod-liver oil, partially digested, strengthens and vitalizes the whole system; the hypophosphites act as a tonic to the mind and nerves, and the glycerine soothes and heals the irritation. Can you think of any combination so effective as this?

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion. See that the man and fish are on the wrapper. 50c. and $1.00, all druggists. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.
